

Jack Ochoa, Founder & Small Business Advocate, Infinity GPC LLC

A passionate educator, entrepreneur, and expert in learning and corporate development. Jack has been a Business and Community leader dedicated to supplier diversity and inclusion for more than 25 years. He has held various positions with top-tier Corporate and Small Business Associations, Minority Business Groups, and Education Outreach organizations across Southern California.

Jack has extensive experience with numerous corporate and government buying policies and procedures for Small Business owners. Under Jack's leadership, key advocacy, civic, political, and community relationships, public policy, and corporate initiatives benefitting small businesses have been pursued and approved.